Dear Friends,

Our 2017–18 Report to the Community is special. We celebrate our Centennial and the start of our second century simultaneously. We are so pleased to share this historic moment with you. You have stood with us and have helped us shape, save and improve the lives of older adults.

For 100 years, the Hebrew Home has been committed to healthy aging and the highest quality of life through groundbreaking programs and services designed to meet the evolving needs of older adults. Our achievements are numerous, our advocacy just and our accomplishments renowned.

While we reflect on our proud past, capped off by our Centennial year, we savor the milestone. We will not bask in our past highlights and novel programs for too long because, true to our pioneering spirit, we are planning for the future. Our 101st year is upon us.

Ten thousand people turn 65 every day of the year. 50 million Americans are over the age of 65, and this number is expected to more than double by 2060. The Hebrew Home begins our second century of service at a critical time in the continuum of eldercare. Stay tuned. We have anticipated these changes in demographics and have done the research on how older adults want to live and what they need for a full, safe and secure life. We have begun necessary capital projects, inaugurated therapeutic and enrichment programs and conceived new strategies for adding life to years.

Thank you for celebrating our 100th anniversary and joining with us to kick off our 101st year. Together, we will continue to innovate care, services and programs for older adults with knowledge and compassion — we will continue to make a difference.

1917 The Hebrew Home for the Aged at Harlem is established to fulfill a Jewish tradition of reverence and responsibility to the elderly.

1920–1939 The Hebrew Home soon acquires adjacent brownstones which contain a synagogue, library, infirmary and rooms for dormitory-style sleeping.

1981 The Hebrew Home is one of the nation’s first geriatric centers to construct a federally subsidized housing complex on its campus. Converted to middle income housing, it is known today as the Jenny and John Paulson Residences at RiverWalk.

2005 The nation’s first elder abuse shelter, now named The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Center for Elder Justice, opens on the Hebrew Home at Riverdale campus.

2009 The Derfner Judaica Museum is dedicated and opens within a new space in the Jacob Reingold Pavilion. Together, the Museum + Art Collection feature more than 5,000 works of fine art and 1,400 Jewish ceremonial objects.

2013 The Hebrew Home launches its first app — Balance — designed for caregivers of Alzheimer’s patients.

2014 To reflect its expanded scope, which includes community programs, assisted living and at-home health services, the Hebrew Home embraces a new brand and name — RiverSpring Health.

2015 The Hebrew Home and NewYork-Presbyterian team up to create a co-branded rehabilitation services program on the campus of the Hebrew Home featuring a New York Giants Zone.
1951 The Hebrew Home moves to an 18-acre Riverdale campus and is renamed the Hebrew Home for the Aged at Riverdale, housing 103 residents.

1961 Grandparents Day is founded at the Hebrew Home, and is later declared a national holiday by President Jimmy Carter in 1978.

1964 U.S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy with Executive Director Jacob Reingold during his visit to the Hebrew Home highlights the government’s commitment to the care of older adults with the introduction of the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

1991 Jacob Reingold, the Hebrew Home Executive Vice President, with Senator Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy at the dedication of the Elma and Milton A. Gilbert Pavilion.

1993 HOPE (Healthcare Offers Permanent Employment) is a program that provides full-day, alternative education for special education students from NYC high schools. Board Trustee George D. Martin recently visited students from the HOPE program, which continues to flourish.

2004 The Hebrew Home residents and staff embark on the first ever overseas trip to Israel by a long-term care facility dubbed the “Chutzpah Mission.”

2009 United States Senator Kirsten Gillibrand tours the Hebrew Home at Riverdale with Board Chairman Jeffrey Maurer.

2010 The Hebrew Home launches ElderServe Health, today called RiverSpring Health Plans, enabling older adults to remain in their own homes.

2012 Following expansion and renovation, the enhanced 32-acre campus is renamed the Maurice R. and Corinne P. Greenberg Campus.

2016 The Hebrew Home honors world and business leaders Maurice R. Greenberg, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger and Sanford I. Weill for their devotion to our mission.

2017 As RiverSpring Health looks to its future and celebrates its Centennial, it begins planning New York City’s first Continuing Care Retirement Community on its Riverdale campus.

Our 100th Anniversary celebrates our leadership and innovation on behalf of older adults. As we enter our second century, we will continue to pioneer programs that enhance and empower aging.
FOR 100 YEARS, OUR CORE MISSION TO HELP OLDER ADULTS ENVISION AND CREATE THE LIFE THEY WANT HAS NEVER WAVERED.

- Created national “Grandparents Day” in 1961.
- Organized the first nursing home mission to Israel, dubbed the “Chutzpah Mission.”
- Created the nation’s first sexual expression policies within a long-term care setting.
- Opened a managed care program, including a MLTC (Managed Long-Term Care), currently with more than 13,000 members.
- Opened the first post-acute rehabilitation program to be co-branded with an acute care hospital.
- Opened the first Judaica museum + art collection, within a long-term care facility.
- Rebranded the Hebrew Home at Riverdale to RiverSpring Health to reflect the organization’s breadth and depth of healthcare offerings for older adults throughout New York City.
- Opened the nation’s first research division on aging within a long-term care facility.
- Developed the HOPE (Healthcare Offers Permanent Employment) Program, the nation’s first alternative high school established in a long-term care facility.
- Established The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Center for Elder Justice, the nation’s first elder abuse shelter.
- Created the first evening respite program for older adults with Alzheimer’s Disease.
- Expanded the campus to create the now 32-acre Maurice R. and Corinne P. Greenberg campus on the Hudson River.
- Developed housing for older adults at all levels of income and healthcare needs.
- Created community healthcare services to provide care in one’s home.
- Developing River’s Edge, New York City’s first Continuing Care Retirement Community.
Riverspring Rehabilitation is a comprehensive and interdisciplinary program consisting of physical and occupational therapies, and speech and language therapies.

Skilled Nursing Care is internationally recognized pioneer in the field of long-term care, located along the majestic Hudson River.

2017 — A BANNER YEAR FOR THE WEINBERG CENTER

We are delighted to share that we will now be known as The Harry and Jeanette Weinberg Center for Elder Justice.

As a national leader in elder justice, we will continue our steadfast commitment to:

• Provide shelter to people who experience elder abuse
• Build the size, capacity and reach of the world wide shelter movement through The SPRiNG Alliance
• Provide direct legal services to our clients and advocate for increased access within the broader legal system
• Expand partnerships and collaborations
• Advance public and professional awareness around elder abuse and elder justice

We are pioneers of safe shelter for people who experience elder abuse. It is our mission to champion justice and dignity for older adults.

JANET’S STORY OF HOPE AND JUSTICE

Janet, a retired career woman in her 80s, enjoyed living with her sister in their family home. As Janet’s memory began to fail, she and her sister became increasingly dependent on their longtime neighbor, Anna, to help them with errands, managing money and finally with daily care. Though Anna said she was taking care of everything, the house fell into disrepair, the phone no longer worked and bills went unpaid. Anna’s friends began coming in and out of the home at all hours and cherished family belongings were missing when they left.

Following a fall in her home, Janet was admitted to the hospital, where Anna, acting as the newly appointed health care proxy, prohibited Janet from contacting her friends and relatives. Alarmed, Janet’s friends alerted the District Attorney’s Office. Janet barely remembered Anna and couldn’t recall signing any documents.

The District Attorney brought the case to the local elder abuse Multidisciplinary Team (MDT). The Weinberg Center, a founding member of MDTs throughout the city, heard Janet’s story and helped transfer her directly from the hospital to the Weinberg Center’s shelter program.

The legal team immediately initiated a guardianship proceeding not only moving Janet to a safe location, but also securing her assets. The appointed guardian continued to work with law enforcement and the Weinberg Center to build a felony criminal case against Anna for larceny. An order of protection issued by the guardianship court also ensured that Anna was barred from further access to Janet and her home.

The Weinberg Center lawyers and social workers, together with the Hebrew Home clinical care team, provided the support Janet needed on her journey toward healing. With our help, Janet was able to return safely to her home with appropriate round-the-clock care.
LIVING LIFE TO THE FULLEST

The Social Services Team champions our residents. They work in partnership with each of the Home’s departments to provide an integrated array of healthcare and therapeutic services that are individualized for each resident.

Each member of the social services department works to redefine the stereotype of aging by helping the residents develop skills focused on their strengths. As advocates, they ensure that members of our community retain their dignity and voice through programs and committees such as our active Resident’s Council, the Welcome Committee and the LGBT and Allies Group.

In 2017, we introduced new support groups for families with loved ones with dementia, and for residents with Parkinson’s disease. We also began a partnership with the Therapeutic Arts and Enrichment Department to provide a Family Wellness series.

Social Services supports our residents and their families, providing guidance from the admissions process through treatment planning and ongoing case management. Our team celebrates all of life’s touchstones with residents and their families, including special end-of-life care.

Celebrating Third Acts — such as forming new friendships, sitting for a portrait with the artist, Brenda Zlamary, or learning to be a potter.
RESTORING QUALITY OF LIFE WITH INNOVATIVE HEALTHCARE SOLUTIONS

Similar to the growth of the Hebrew Home at Riverdale over the past 100 years, the field of rehabilitation has continued to evolve. RiverSpring Rehabilitation, located at the Hebrew Home at Riverdale, continues to be a pioneer in the fields of rehabilitation and wellness. Our highly motivated team of Physical, Occupational and Speech Therapists improve the lives of our long- and short-term residents. In 2017, our team logged over 1,600 treatment episodes through innovative and highly skilled treatment sessions.

Healthcare reform has forged an era of focus on outcomes and quality of care for short-term rehabilitation. Through RiverSpring Rehabilitation’s data-driven and clinically meaningful care, our position as a leader in post-acute care has been established. In 2017, the Hebrew Home at Riverdale realized the following short-stay achievements:

- Extremely low hospital readmission rates
- High functional improvement scores
- Successful discharge of patients to a safe and productive home environment
- 18% increase in likelihood to recommend facility Press Ganey Customer Satisfaction Score as compared to 2016

From a long-term care standpoint, our warm water aquatic dementia therapy program is distinctive in that it utilizes multiple therapeutic modalities to gain strength, balance, cognition function, emotional support and socialization. This collaborative program, involving both a physical therapist and a dance movement therapist, has demonstrated successful outcomes with improved physical function and cognitive status. Tenaya Cowsill, MS, R-DMT, LCAT-P reported, “this program has been an incredibly meaningful source of joy, autonomy and pride to residents.”

Our Therapeutic Arts and Enrichment Programs touch every aspect of our residents’ lives and provide opportunities for creative expression, continued learning and physical activity. The End of Life Music Therapy Program brings added comfort and compassion to both our residents and their families. During these personalized sessions, residents are encouraged to share their experiences through the art of songwriting and listening to pre-composed songs. Through this individual journey of creative self-expression and improvisation, residents process their thoughts, fears and memories.

This successful program was featured in the New York Times article, “Music Therapy Offers an End-of-Life Grace Note” on January 15, 2018. Since its inception, the program has received 107 resident referrals and has conducted 438 sessions. This provides residents, families and staff profound comfort and grief support.

A poem, “Special Person,” created by Doris Reich, deeply touched her family. “The fact that you shared her words with us gave our family a bright ray of joy and hopefulness, since at that stage of her dementia, we didn’t think she still had such thoughts in her head,” her son, David Reich, shared.

Standing-room-only audiences remarked that this production of “The Birds” was the best of experimental theatre ever seen from Broadway all the way up the Hudson to the Hebrew Home on the Palisades. Participating residents were touched and gratified by the positive impact
In being part of the production of “The Birds,” we found a wondrous sense of pride in our accomplishments and, best of all, formed wonderful friendships.
— Chip Reis, resident, actor and dramaturg this experience had on their daily lives, helping them to gain a renewed sense of purpose and connectedness to their peers.

Our art studio continues to be a hub of creativity as our arts therapists work with residents to help develop their inner artist through the mediums of sculpture, painting, enameling, pottery, beadwork, drawing, knitting and on and on and on.

Finally, Our Pets by Your Side Program brings the unconditional love and compassion of pets to the lives of our residents and their families. Our program also features lifelike animatronic therapy cats that aid in memory care. As featured in extensive media coverage worldwide, these sensory cats interact with residents through touch and sound. This non-pharmacological approach enhances the Hebrew Home at Riverdale’s resident centered home-like atmosphere and aims to reduce loneliness and agitated behavior. Our goal with this, as with all interventions, is to assist with maximizing psycho-social wellbeing.

Creativity is the spice of life — whether it is participating in a play or creating a work of art.
DERFNER JUDAICA
MUSEUM + THE ART COLLECTION

At the Hebrew Home, art is seen at every turn — 5,000 works of art installed on every residential floor, Jewish ceremonial objects on view in the Derfner Judaica Museum and rotating contemporary art exhibitions.

A weekly program led by a museum educator, “Let’s Talk About Art,” takes place on the resident neighborhoods, encouraging personal expression and interaction, especially for those with cognitive impairments. Art History is presented by Hebrew Home curators and guest lecturers every month in the Biederman Library and is accessible to everyone in the wider Hebrew Home community.

Intergenerational programming has been at the core of the Museum’s mission since its inception in 1982, inspiring conversation and cross-cultural exchange among visitors of all ages and abilities.

Weekly programs provide cultural opportunities especially geared to children and young adults with special needs. At exhibition opening receptions, artists, curators, families and visitors intermingle as one community. The art program is driven by a mission articulated 50 years ago, when Jacob Reingold, the Hebrew Home’s then Executive Director and founder of the Art Collection, said in The New York Times: “We wanted to bring the beauty that is art into the lives of people. We’re trying to remove the invisible wall that often separates an institution from the community.”

The Museum + Art Collection’s programs are supported by The Derfner Foundation under the transformative leadership of Trustee Jay Lieberman, and also, in part, by public funds from the New York City Department of Cultural Affairs in partnership with the City Council, and other generous contributions. Additional exhibition support was provided by Joseph Alexander Foundation, the Jan Karski Educational Foundation and Yivo Institute for Jewish Research.

We wanted to bring the beauty that is art into the lives of people.

— Jacob Reingold

A few highlights include:
The Wall Street Journal featured our collaboration with neighboring College of Mount Saint Vincent, in which RiverWalk residents attend college courses ranging from medieval history to the arts. Our residents have an incredible love of learning. Stepping into a college classroom, for the first time in decades, has been an exciting journey that reminds our residents that it is never too late to learn something new!

The Associated Press featured the Hebrew Home’s HOPE Program, exploring the high school for special needs students that is housed within the nursing home, and the indelible bonds that have developed between its students and our residents.

The New York Times featured the Hebrew Home’s end-of-life music therapy program, and its powerful and moving impact on residents and families at such an important and emotional time in one’s life.

RiverSpring Health has an abundance of stories to share, and at their heart, are the residents, patients and members in our care.

The Hebrew Home at Riverdale’s Research Division continues to be a thought leader in the field and is currently the Data Coordinating Center for 12 projects, through federally-funded subcontracts to major medical centers. These projects relate to research in the following areas: Alzheimer’s disease biomarkers and early detection, cardiovascular risk factors, delirium, elder abuse, pain and palliative care, stroke, functional assessment in hospitalized elders and falls prevention. Our research projects span the spectrum of issues facing older adults including cultural biases in healthcare research.

We are proud to be working with our preeminent research partners — investigators from Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Mayo Clinic, Mount Sinai, New York University and Yale. We have major roles as Research Cores or consultants to several National Institute on Aging (NIA) Centers, including the Cornell Roybal Center focused on the study of pain, the National Resource Centers for Minority Aging Research focused on studies of minority elders, and the Mount Sinai Pepper Center focused on the study of palliative care. We are the multiple Principal Investigators to a large study of resident interactions in Assisted Living, funded by the NIA. In addition, we participate in multiple federally-funded mentoring and measurement analytic projects.
CONNECTING THE GENERATIONS

Volunteer Services continues to provide invaluable opportunities for an ever-expanding and diverse community of volunteers and, in turn, for our residents. Each learns from and mentors the other.

In 2017, over 300 volunteers donated some 43,000 hours of their time to support residents, families and staff. Volunteers range in age from 14-102.

This year, our growing intergenerational programming hosted visitors from local schools, camps and community groups. These customized group experiences create opportunities for our residents to share their rich life experiences with youngsters and visitors from across the region. These interactions have a profound positive effect on both the residents and the visitors.

In the summer of 2017, we were happy to introduce a week-long mini camp for children ages 7-13, providing full days of interactions and great opportunities to truly bond with our residents.

Residents are key members of our team at the Home, volunteering their time to greet new members of their resident neighborhoods as part of our welcome committee and working with students as part of our intergenerational mentoring programs.

Our volunteers help build our community, by creating special connections between the generations.
Building on a legacy of service to the community, our volunteers are at the heart of what we do at the Hebrew Home at Riverdale.

The Volunteer Department is also home base for non-clinical internships for college students. Through our numerous affiliations with local colleges, we are able to offer a large number of non-clinical internships to students interested in pursuing healthcare and/or business careers. Some of the areas of interest for our interns have included nursing, physical/occupational therapy, social services, accounting, finance, IT, communications, business administration, psychology and pre-med.

High school internships are also available. Of special note, is our connection to the NYC Department of Education which brings the HOPE Program (Healthcare Offers Permanent Employment) to the Hebrew Home. HOPE provides vocational training for students with intellectual disabilities and equips them with the skills they will need for employment.

Create a legacy that will help the Hebrew Home at Riverdale continue to transform healthy aging.

Making a planned gift may allow you to give more than you ever thought possible and, at the same time, benefit from tax advantages or income for life. Planned or deferred gift options include bequests, annuities (Charitable Gift Annuity) and trusts (Charitable Remainder Trust, Charitable Lead Trust) as well as gifts of life insurance and pensions.

Charitable gifts reward donors in many ways: in addition to fulfilling your philanthropic goals, you may reduce taxes, increase spendable income and address other financial and estate planning goals.

There are many planned giving options including: Charitable Gift Annuities, Charitable Remainder Trusts, Charitable Lead Trusts, Bequests and Life Insurance

For more information about planned giving, to notify the Hebrew Home of a planned gift that has already been made, or if you wish to designate the Hebrew Home as a beneficiary in your will, please contact Rosanne Slattery at 718-781-1250 or Rosanne.Slattery@hebrewhome.org.

You can also support the Hebrew Home by making a gift of stocks or other kinds of securities. In doing so, you receive a two-fold benefit: a charitable tax deduction for the full fair market value of the stocks or securities at the time of the gift, and you avoid paying capital gains taxes. To make a securities gift, please contact Patricia S. Weiss at 718-581-1848 or Patricia.Weiss@hebrewhome.org
The Hebrew Home at Riverdale Foundation would like to express its deepest gratitude to our Hebrew Home Visionaries. Their legacy gifts make a lasting difference in the lives of the older adults we serve.

The 100th Anniversary Gala
Celebrating 100 Years of Compassionate Care

HONORING
Wendy and Jeff Maurer

Our Centennial Celebration, held at the iconic American Museum of Natural History, was a gala for the record books. Eight hundred dedicated friends, supporters and members of our Hebrew Home family, representing many generations, came together to honor our proud history and to support a strong future. Together we raised $3.4 million dollars for the Hebrew Home Foundation.

We congratulate our distinguished honorees Wendy and Jeff Maurer. It was a privilege to recognize our dear friends and our Board Chairman, who has provided transformational leadership to the Hebrew Home.

We thank you, our dedicated partners, friends and loyal supporters, for your generous contributions and involvement with our 100th Anniversary Gala. Your commitment to our work ensured the spectacular success of this historic evening.

Wendy and Jeff, thank you for expanding the treasured legacy entrusted to you by your parents, grandparents and great grandparents. Your wise counsel, generosity and unwavering devotion will ensure that the Hebrew Home's mission continues to flourish.

THE HEBREW HOME AT RIVERDALE FOUNDATION
101ST ANNUAL GALA

CELEBRATING
LIVING AND AGING 101

HONORING
Merryl and James Tisch

The Ziegfeld Ballroom
Change is the law of life. And those who look only to the past or present are certain to miss the future.

— President John F. Kennedy

For 100 years, The Hebrew Home at Riverdale has been the innovative go-to for all answers to all questions about living and aging. We have been bold in our development of programs and services that anticipate and meet the needs of older adults and enable them to live the fullest possible life. This ethos has been built into our DNA since our founding.

Here are the present facts about aging:

• There are 50 million Americans over the age of 65
• There are 10,000 people turning 65 every day
• The number of Americans ages 65 and older is projected to more than double to over 100 million by 2060 and the 65 and older age group’s share of the total population will rise to 25%
• One in 10 people age 65 and older have Alzheimer’s dementia
• One in 10 older adults in America experience abuse, neglect or exploitation

This is a Pivotal Moment in Elder Care.

Not surprisingly, we have been prescient in acknowledging this evolution of need and care and have explored solutions. We have looked to the future.

We recognize that older adults want and require different living options and care. As of the publication of this report, we are actively transforming our facilities and renovating our buildings on campus to expand our memory care, assisted living and our elder abuse prevention services as well as to upgrade our nursing home neighborhoods.

As leaders in aging, we are committed to these capital improvements and innovations to ensure the excellence of care — and a safe, secure and vibrant living experience for our residents.

We continue to pursue capital funding from city, state and federal government sources as well as from families and foundations...AND...we need your help to support these capital improvements.

Learn how you can make a difference in the lives of so many.
